The screenshot shows a test interface with a dark red header. The title is "HVAC-Electrical-Practice-Sample". Below the title, it says "Question 14 of 25 | Multiple Choice | 10". The question text is: "For 24 volt control wiring used in most residential and light commercial equipment, which of the following is right:". There are four radio button options: (R), Red, hot side of transformer; (C) Common side of transformer; (W) White, "Heat" (gas burner); and All of the above are correct. To the right of the options is a wiring diagram showing a transformer with primary and secondary windings, and various control components like a gas valve and burner. At the bottom of the interface, there are buttons for "Outline..." and "Submit".
